

~ Podyn ~

Biscoff, dough, vanilla ice cream £8

Pineapple upside-down cake, coconut sorbet, passionfruit £6

Rum & chocolate crème brûlée £6

Rhubarb & custard parfait £6

Roskilly's Cornish ice cream or sorbets £5

(Ice cream – vanilla, strawberry, chocolate, ginger fairing, After Eight, blackberry & apple crumble, white chocolate & raspberry, Cornish fudge)
(Sorbet – lemon, mango, raspberry, coconut)

Cornish cheese board, artisan crackers, vine grapes,
Halzephron Herb Farm chutney £10

Trio of homemade infused rums £12

(Lime & mint, roasted coconut, rhubarb, pineapple, vanilla, coffee, caramelised banana, chocolate, seaweed spiced, cinnamon & apple)

Cornish rum coffee

Irish coffee

Baileys coffee

Cognac coffee

£6 each

~ Learn to speak Cornish ~

Dreckly

Means that something will be done directly. However, the difference between 'dreckly' and 'directly' is that doing something 'dreckly' can take ages – there's no specified time limit. What could be done today will probably be done tomorrow.

Giss On!

This means 'Stop talking absolute rubbish!'

Proper Job

Only the Cornish can do a 'proper job', especially if it involves lots of heavy lifting, a tractor and a pint of cider. Proper job is perfect!

Ansome

Everything and everyone can be ansome – or proper ansome if they're lucky. Ansome is a word that every Cornishman uses to describe something they like on a daily basis.

The Big City

No, not London. The big city is Truro, of course.

Up North

Basically, anywhere over the Tamar Bridge, into Plymouth and beyond.

I'lltellywot

This is the perfect phrase when you have some information to share.

Heller

A naughty child or person: 'What a little heller!'

Right On

A tricky one really – this is Cornish for yes/ideal/perfect, but also 'goodbye' and 'farewell'. Much more exciting, expressive and affirmative than boring old 'yes'.